

Taking children before Lawful Due Process
IS SLAVERY.

Government of Western Australia
Department of Communities

Form 424
04/21

A WEF - World Economic Forum Creation.

Unsubstantiated Claim.

Dear [REDACTED]

As a result of an investigation by the Department of Communities, Southwest District Busselton Office, it has been assessed that there is an immediate and substantial risk to the wellbeing of your child [REDACTED]. This means that your child [REDACTED] has been taken into provisional protection and care (temporary care) under section 37 of the Children and Community Services Act 2004.

Legal Statute - not Law or Love.

This means that [REDACTED] is in the care of the Department's Chief Executive Officer ("CEO", and the person in charge of the Department), and may have been placed into foster care. The Department's CEO, unless otherwise ordered by the Children's Court of Western Australia, now has all of the day-to-day responsibilities for caring for your child [REDACTED]. This includes making decisions about where your child lives, what contact your child has with you, and arranging for your child to receive any necessary medical treatment.

The Department must now ask (apply to) a magistrate at the Children's Court for a Protection Order within two working days. The first court appearance is likely to be held within three working days of the application being filed at Court. Once the matter gets to a final hearing, if the magistrate does not agree with the Department's application, it will be dismissed, and your will return to the legal care of you and their other parent.

You will be given (served) a copy of the Department's application to the court, and a report which includes all the things the Department is concerned about. You should receive this before the first appearance in court (called a "mention"). The application will have on it the date, time and place of the first mention. It is important you attend all court appearances.

Once the application for a protection order is filed, you have the right to apply to the Court for interim orders. This means that you can make an application regarding where your child lives, contact between your child and anyone important to them, including you, as well as other issues that may be relevant to the court.

The name of your case manager from the Department is [REDACTED], from [REDACTED], and the number is [REDACTED]. The case manager will contact you to arrange a meeting to discuss your child's needs and a way forward with you.

We acknowledge this is a difficult time for you, and we encourage you to seek legal advice and any other support that you may need as soon as possible. Please see over for further information on legal and other support services.

Yours sincerely

[REDACTED]

Team Leader
[REDACTED] Intensive Family Support Team

2 February 2023

A business model of Scarcity, drama & crisis, created for profit and control. Called the "PUBLIC".

* FAILURE OF LAWFUL DUE PROCESS = SLAVERY

Family confirms this has not happened.

Legal Advice

You should get independent legal advice as soon as possible. Give your lawyer a copy of the application and report when you receive them.

If you do not have a lawyer, you can contact:

- Legal Aid WA on 1300 650 579 from 8.30am to 4.30pm for information and referral – the Perth Office is located at Level 1, 32 St. George's Terrace, Perth, and the telephone number is (08) 9261 6222 (note that Fremantle and Midland Legal Aid Offices have now closed)
- Legal Aid WA's Children's Court (Protection) Services – duty service is available on (08) 9218 0160
- Aboriginal Legal Service – the Perth office is at Piccadilly Square, 7 Aberdeen Street, Perth (near McIver Railway Station), and the telephone number is (08) 9265 6666 (or freecall 1800 019 900)
- The Family Violence Prevention Legal Service (FVPLS) – located in regional and remote WA for victims of family violence and/or sexual assault. To locate your nearest FVPLS office, visit <https://www.legalaid.wa.gov.au/get-legal-help>, or contact your Department of Communities case manager for details
- Mental Health Law Centre, 255 Hay Street, Subiaco, telephone (08) 9328 8012
- Your local community legal centre

Other Services

- Lifeline, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, telephone 13 11 14
- Samaritans Crisis Line, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, telephone 13 52 47
- Mental Health Emergency Response Line (MHERL), 24 hours a day, seven days a week, metro callers 1300 555 788 (local call), or Peel callers 1800 676 822 (freecall)
- Crisis Care Helpline, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, telephone (08) 9223 1111 or 1800 199 008 (country freecall)