PUBLIC NOTICE

WALPIRI TRIBE JURISDICTION

THE KUMANJAYI WALKER DISTINCTION

PLEASE BE ADVISED, WARLPIRI TRIBE OF CENTRAL DESERT, MAINTAINS IT'S OWN INDEPENDENT JURISDICTION,
FROM TIME IMMEMORIAL.

1. At no time has this Jurisdiction of the Warlpiri Tribe of Central Desert ever been surrendered.
2. Nor will it ever be surrendered.
3. We observe a 'Do No Harm' policy. That being a basic foundation to maintaining safety and harmony in community. This is observed within our own jurisdiction, and when interacting with other jurisdictions, and we expect the same standard to be returned to us by foreign jurisdictions.
4. We of course acknowledge, that from time to time, events happen that disrupt that foundation. Accordingly, via ancient tribal custom, we have long established methods to restore harmony within our own tribal system.

5. Therefore, all tribal matters will come under the tribal jurisdiction and long established methods of remedy.
6. Interference of outside jurisdictions is not permitted, unless by invitation by Tribal Elders.
7. Northern Territory Corporate Government should not consider itself to have authority to intervene in the private matters of Warlpiri Tribe. Without knowledge of ancient tribal ways, foreign intervention often exacerbates matters, and deepens divide between families seeking remedy in tribal ways.
8. If a matter has a party involved from outside the Warlpiri Tribe, discussions with foreign jurisdictions will commence accordingly.
9. Should any matters include parties from outside the Warlpiri Tribe, discussions will be held accordingly between Warlpiri Tribal Elders and the relevant public servant employees of the current corporate Federal Australian Government, and/or current corporate Northern Territory government, with a view to bringing remedy as swiftly as possible to the matter.
10. Officers of the corporate governments, or parties of any foreign jurisdiction, interfering in Warlpiri Tribe matters, are notified that no Corporate Immunity is recognised, and individuals can and will be held personally responsible for their actions, of firstly trespass, and may come before a tribal hearing, and can incur the outcomes of traditional tribal ways.
11. Therefore, please be advised, do not trespass into matters of customary Jukurrpa Law where no jurisdiction exists, or you invoke this jurisdiction to process you accordingly.

12. At no time, may a matter involving a Warlpiri Tribe individual come before an all colonial jury, within the private colonial system of the private BAR Guild.
13. This is recognised as slavery, and will be administered accordingly before tribal ways to hold accountable the perpetrators of such conduct.
14. From this date forward, any matters occurring, involving multiple jurisdictions, and thus requiring a jury; will be based in a balanced representation from the Warlpiri Tribe and parties from any other jurisdictions involved.
15. The matter will not be assumed to be processed via a Westminster model, regardless of a balanced jury.
16. An all Colonial Jury, and the Westminster system to process Warlpiri Tribe matters is a failure of jurisdiction and deems matters Null and Void, due to failure of lawful due process.
17. At no time should the corporate governments assume they have any jurisdiction, nor superior jurisdiction, over any Warlpiri Tribe People.
18. We reserve the right to hold retrospective accountability of past failures in justice when Tribal matters have come before Colonial Courts, including the wrongful incarceration of Warlpiri Tribe members within the Colonial jurisdiction, past and present.
19. Currently, we are aware that the management and distribution of global resources is largely enclosed within the private trusts of the private BAR Guild global systems of claim and private jurisdiction. As this system exists without transparency to the general population, but does effect the general population, there should be no disruption to any services provided at this time, to Warlpiri Tribe People.

20. We reserve the right to request that maladministration of inherent right to resources is brought up to appropriate standards, wherever deemed necessary.
21. Further communications, regarding the very important resource management of Terra Australis, will be convened and tabled, based on developments resulting from the conversations across multiple jurisdictions.
22. At no time is any harm permitted to come to Warlpiri Tribe People, from outside jurisdictions, such as deprivation of resources, due to this communication.
23. The current alleged Custodians of resources, whether such title is held by honour or dishonour, are held wholly responsible for ensuring resources are sufficiently distributed to prevent Harm and Injury to all People of Planet Earth.
24. All Custodians of resources are held personally liable and accountable in preventing Harm and Injury, via deprivation of resources, on our abundant Planet Earth.
25. If you wish to further discussions and understanding of how we may build a harmonious future forward; across multiple jurisdictions, please contact the Warlpiri Tribe Elders to make an appointment for discussion.
26. Do not assume you have the authority to proceed in resource management issues if you have not embarked on dialogues with Warlpiri Tribe Elders, or other relevant Tribal Elders, as determined by the location of your proposed project.
